

Breach of Covenant | Tafseer Surat al-Baqarah

This April 4-6 & 11-13, 2008 in London

YOUR LORD. YOUR COVENANT.RECONNECT WITH THE ULTIMATE PURPOSE OF YOUR LIFE.

Picture in your mind's eye, the sight of the sahabah. A group of dedicated students sitting at the feet of a teacher blessed with a Word from the Heavens above. The Truth of Muhammad's message would transform the very foundation of the society in which they lived, distinguishing the falsehood of idolatry from the goodness of Faith in the Oneness of Allah. Amidst these students were those, foremost in their dedication, believers who carried within their hearts the Word.

"Yaa Hamalat al-Qur'aan"

O Carriers of the Qur'aan! A call of distinction for the huffadh - those who carried the Message of Truth!

Allah subhanahu wa ta'ala says in Surat al-Baqarah: "This is the book that contains no doubt; a guide for the Muttaqoon." [2 :1-2]

Allah has made Surat al-Baqarah and the surahs that follow it a light and guide for those who are willing to seek out the guidance. During the life of our beloved Messenger and the sahabah who followed him, the people of the Qur'aan were given special honour – in life and death - for it was they who carried the Best of Words in their chests.

As time passed, and Muslims spread from land to land with the message of Allah, scholarship advanced and illiteracy disappeared amongst Muslim lands . Thousands of students studied under great teachers such as Abu Ad-Dardaa' in Shaam, and Abdullah ibn Masood in Iraq.

Dear Student of Knowledge,

Picture yourself in these circles. What subject were they teaching?

Yes, they taught the Qur'aan day and night! And this was due to their firm belief that all knowledge could be extracted from the Qur'aan.

"Then the cities of Islam grew, and illiteracy disappeared from amongst the Arabs because of their constant occupation with the Qur'aan."

- Ibn Khaldun: Al-Muqaddima

An Ocean of Knowledge

O Muslims, heed the words of the Command of the Believers, Umar ibn al-Khattab when he said:

"You are proceeding upon a people who buzz like bees in their recitation of the Qur'aan. Make bear the Qur'aan for them. Do not distract them and divert them (from their study)!" - Ameer Al-Mu'mineen Umar, radi Allahu 'anhu

How long has it been since you've taken a drink from this fountain? The Qur'aan is the Believer's source of strength and succor. It aides those who accompany it, and will be a source of defense on the Day when all will be in need of help. It is a cure for the sick, and for the weak of heart.

For many the word "Surat al-Baqarah" evokes fear and awe because of its length and the many laws it contains. Few of us are blessed with the opportunity to study its verses, uncovering its wisdom and guidance.

There are only a few who are blessed - be amongst these few.

On the authority of Abu Hurayrah (radi Allahu 'anhu), the Messenger of Allah (sal Allahu 'alayhi wa sallam) said, "Don't make your homes graveyards! Indeed the Devil runs from the house in which Sura al-Baqarah is recited."

- Saheeh Muslim

By Attending this Seminar you will...

1. Comprehend the message of the oft-recited Surat al-Fatiha
2. Understand the difference between: believers, disbelievers, and hypocrites.
3. Understand the history of banee Israa'eel and how it affects Muslims today.
4. Appreciate the Quranic style of teaching the pillars of faith such as Tawheed, fasting in Ramadan, performing Hajj, and the importance of Zakah.
5. Solidify your belief in Allah by renewing your covenant to Him aza wa jall.

6. Find the inspiration you need to make the Qur'aan a part of your life again

"Every Ayah of the Qur'an is a rank you are raised in paradise, every ayah a lantern of light in your homes." - 'Amr ibn Al'Aas, radi Allahu 'anhu
